

The Importance of Social Investment

Like many of you, I was pleased to hear BC's new Premier announce that the disability assistance rate would be raised by $100 in September, 2017. For many of the adults we support, this increase is long overdue. It is a challenge for many to make ends meet and this increase represents a better chance to find adequate housing or good nutrition. The $100 is a start.

In his press release, Premier John Horgan spoke of the need support people to live in dignity, further promising, "Raising the rates is only the beginning. Our government is committed to bring forward a comprehensive poverty reduction plan to lift children and families out of poverty". We will be watching closely and welcome strategies to support families.

"Raising the rates is only the beginning. Our government is committed to bring forward a comprehensive poverty reduction plan to lift children and families out of poverty," Premier Horgan.

system, discovery of joy in unexpected places, rich appreciation of that which makes us unique, and the development of creativity and resilience.

On the other hand, the time constraints, financial burdens, physical and emotional demands and the struggle to meet their child's complex needs can place stress on the entire family and result in breakdown in the absence of effective support.

Families we serve describe effective supports as shoring up the strength of their families and enabling the child or adult to live a full life. Such supports and services require financial investment by government in essential programs for childcare, early childhood intervention, respite, employment programs and disability supports.

MAACL has almost 60 years of experience supporting families, children and adults who live with a disability. Over these decades, we have been repeatedly reminded of the ability of those with diverse abilities to flourish in communities with the right supports in place.

Having a family member with an intellectual disability can have an effect on the entire family, extended family and personal support network. It is a unique shared experience that can affect all aspects of family functioning.

From a positive perspective, it can result in deeper connections and relationships within the family

We believe that strong families are the foundation for strong community. My hope is that this investment is truly just a start; My hope is that Premier Horgan's commitment is followed with public policy and financial support that promotes the well-being of individuals, families and our community.

Supported Child Development Program

Every Child Belongs

The Supported Child Development Program motto is "Every Child Belongs". We are so proud of Mission Childcare programs, for embracing this motto and exemplifying the best of inclusion.

For almost 3 decades; together with families, childcare programs and community partners, we have supported each other to strengthen our values and build the capacity to include and nurture children who require extra support, in the preschool and childcare programs of their family's choice.

Inclusion is a philosophy that supports the right of all children of diverse abilities to participate actively in natural settings within their communities. Inclusion values all children and enriches everyone involved.

"Children who have any kind of disability have the right to special care and support, as well as all the rights in the convention, so that they can live full and independent lives" (Article 23 of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child, 1989 - UNICEF fact sheet).

The Supported Child Development Program is committed to the goal of equity and access for all children, and we will continue to work with families and our community partners to further inclusive opportunities.

Farewell to Heather as she skips off into the sunset to enjoy time with her grandchildren in the next chapter of her life called "Celebrating Retirement!" Heather has played a pivotal role in the evolution of the Supported Child Development Program in our community over the years. From mentoring Consultants, advocating for inclusion and services for families who have children who require extra support in their child care settings, and partnering with community service providers to ensure a strong support network for families accessing services, Heather has worked so very diligently and with great compassion for over two decades. Always sweet with a heart of gold and kindness toward all, she stood firm on her beliefs that all children of all abilities have the fundamental right to access community settings and belong, and that families must be offered a foundation of support in their community, always. Heather, we sincerely hope that you enjoy many years ahead of fun and focus for your own family, as they surely look forward to having you all to themselves now that you say farewell to your MACL family. We will miss working with you here Heather, it's truly been a pleasure.

"Grandparents are extremely rich folks with silver in their hair and gold in their hearts."

Residential Services

Personal relationships and a healthy sense of belonging are basic human needs.

MACL's staffed residential homes focus on creating true homes and a sense of belonging for those who choose to live in them. Our homes are found in community neighbourhoods in and around the Mission community.

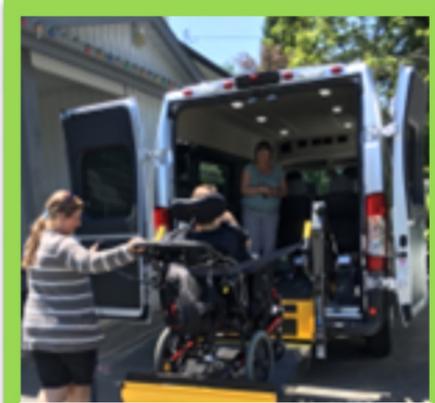

Individuals live together with support from workers who help create nurturing environments. MACL's Homes enhance security & privacy while meeting the intellectual, physical, emotional, social and spiritual needs of each person.

Sandcastle Preschool

Happy Summer everyone from Sandcastle Preschool! The sun has everyone smiling these days. We have been having so much fun blowing bubbles outside and watching the lettuce, beans, pumpkins and nasturtiums growing in our gardens. The children have enjoyed tasting the lettuce, and it's led to some great conversations about salad..... "I don't eat that stuff!", "We have this in my garden too!"

Recently we were able to visit the Mission Art Gallery on First Ave. We submitted several pieces of the children's artwork; the theme for this year was "Aliens". Everyone enjoyed our walking field trip, special thanks to our parent helpers. It was a great adventure!

Pro Oil Change is a quick lube/fluid exchange business located in Mission British Columbia. Like all small businesses labor costs are a significant portion of our daily cost and having employees that show up on time and give 100% effort are crucial to our success. About 3 years ago we added Mike, Dan and Tom to our team and after a few days training, they were all off and running so to speak. Seldom if ever have we been concerned about their work ethic, punctuality or their interactions with our customers. DIVERSITY according to Google means "a range of different things". As a business owner I believe that all of our team members are diverse. Our team members that were referred through M.A.C.L. have simply become Pro Oil Change Mission team members. I look forward to our continued relationship with these men.

Summertime is "Vacation Time" at Tavernier Home

Ed's vacation to Merritt with his sisters and staff support was a huge success! Everyone enjoyed themselves and would like to do it again next year. Upon Ed's arrival back home, he and his sisters participated in his PATH, as you can see by the drawing it's jam packed with wonderful plan and ideas!

Michael went up to Harrison Hot Springs to meet his brother and sister-in-law from Seattle and spend the day and night. Upon his return home Michael and his family participated in Michael's PATH, also lots to do!

Brent enjoys spending time and hanging out with his brother Randy so a planned trip to Parksville on Vancouver Island is coming up in August for a couple of days. Should be a fun time in Parksville!!

"The Right to Vote"

In Canada we live in a democratic country where everyone has the right to vote. We vote for who represents us in government and leads our country. It was not always this way. In 1982 the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms was passed giving everyone the right to vote in Canada but some populations were still excluded: judges, prisoners, and people with mental disabilities. Advocates rallied and a Royal Commission was asked to investigate. In 1992 recommendations were given. In 1993 Bill C114 was passed giving people with mental disabilities the right to vote. It also mandated education and information programs be provided for Canadians with special needs. Since then special considerations have been put into place to support those wishing to exercise their right to vote. You can ask for help with marking your ballot if you have a disability or difficulty reading or writing. Braille candidate lists, large print ballot posters, and plastic ballot templates for the visually impaired are available. All advance polling centers and many general voting places are wheelchair accessible. If you can't enter a polling center you can vote outside. Telephone voting is also in place for voters with vision loss or who have a disability that restricts their ability to vote independently. There are many countries around the world where people do not have the right to vote and choose their leaders and representatives in government. Our ancestors fought and advocated to give us the privilege to vote so get educated and vote in our next election.

Home Share

What a great start to the summer, with beautiful weather and a great Gala in June, this season is looking fantastic. We have had many new faces join us recently, contractors and individuals alike. As such, we would like to introduce Marc, Lisa and Ingrid.

Marc moved in with his new Home Share family on July 1st, where they all celebrated the Nation's 150th as well as his housewarming. Marc and Lisa have planned a cruise this September to visit Alaska, and many other small adventures around Vancouver to the Seawall, shopping on Granville and Robson, hunting for unique coffee shops and visiting White Rock. Please join us in Welcoming Marc and his HomeShare family.

This year, Training Sessions for our Contractors will be taking a new path with Online and take home modules. Keep an eye out this fall when we introduce these new opportunities.

Lastly, many of our current HomeShare providers have come to us by way of recommendation from our current contractors or supported individuals.

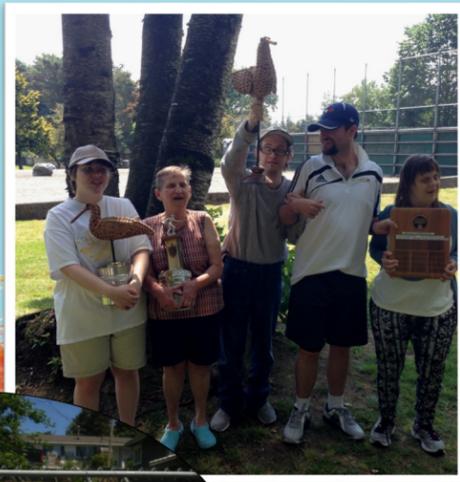

If you know of a caring individual or family that may be interested, please have them contact us and we will be more than happy to support them in the application process. We will be hosting an Informational Open House early fall as well.
